Council Holds Special Session

This is the official record of proceedings of Council at a Special Meeting held in the Council Chamber of the Town of Wainwright at the hour of 8 p.m., on Monday, the 27th day of November, A.D. 1944, for the purpose of discussing and coming to an agreement relative to the milk delivery situation throughout the Corporate Limits of the Town.

Members of Council present at this meeting were Mayor Middlemas, Councillors Leggett, Coleman, Stafford, Cork, Tory and Robinson.

After a "Waiver of Notice" had been signed by all members present the Mayor informed Council that Mr. Spady had verbally advised him that unless a recommendation was made by Council for a raise in the present retail delivery price of milk of 1c per quart to the Board of Utility Commissioners, he would terminate his deliveries to customers on the 1st day of December.

A lengthy discussion took place at this time over this matter, mainly in regard to the procedure that should be followed as it was felt that the Board of Public Utility Commissioners were the governing body in this regard.

On motion of Councillor Tory, that rather than face the possibility of being without delivery of milk throughout the Town, we, the Council of the Town of Wainwright, recommend to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, that a raise in the price of 1c per quart be allowed on this commodity and that the Board be advised to this effect.

Motion carried—Mayor Middlemas dissenting.

On motion, Council was regularly adjourned.

CIGARET ASH

NOT HARMFUL

In answer to the question of "How harmful is cigarette tobacco ash, for example, when it is accidentally spilled on food and the food accidentally eaten?" a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association says:

"The ash of cigarette tobacco itself may contain traces of lead or arsenic, as well as carbon and mineral constituents, but in itself is not harmful when ingested in small amounts. However, the incompletely burned cigarette tobacco behind the burning point may contain rather high concentrations of tobacco alkaloids, and so care should be taken to avoid contamination of food with material from the stump, behind the ash."

Nurses Urgently Needed in Province

More nurses are urgently needed in Alberta; three types of training are offered: the three-year certificate course which is offered at any general hospital; a four-year course offered by the provincial mental hospital at Ponoka; two years to be spent at the mental hospital and two years at a general hospital, and a five-year course offered by the University of Alberta at Edmonton, leading to the B.Sc. degree in nursing. This course consists of one year's academic work, three years of hospital training and then a final year of academic work.

The qualifications for entering any of the nursing schools in Alberta are as follows: All student nurses must have the high school diploma with 100 credits, including Chemistry 2 and Physics 2 or Biology; senior matriculation is required at the University of Alberta hospital and is needed also by registered nurses planning on taking further university work. The minimum age on entrance is 18 or 19 years. Candidates must be in good health. There are no religious qualifications in Alberta.

Schools of nursing in the province are located at:—the Calgary General hospital, Edmonton General hospital, Galt hospital, Lethbridge; Holy Cross hospital, Calgary; Lamont Public hospital; Medicine Hat General hospital; Misericordia hospital, Edmonton; Provincial Mental hospital, Ponoka; Royal Alexandra hospital, Edmonton; University hospital, Edmonton and the Vegreville General hospital. Information regarding any of these schools may be obtained by writing to the superintendent of nurses.

An entrance fee at a maximum of $30 is charged in most schools of nursing to cover the cost of text books and uniform. Board and room is supplied by the hospital. Medical care is usually provided during training. After the student nurse completes the preliminary period of from three to six months, an allowance of $5 to $15 monthly is paid by the general hospitals, and $35 to $45 by the mental hospitals.

Massey Harris Head Tells of France Today

James S. Duncan, president and general manager of Massey-Harris Company, Ltd., brings back from a tour of France the impression that that country will emerge from its harrowing experiences during the war and even harder times in the next six months much stronger than its outside friends could have had reason to hope in the earlier years of the struggle.

Mr. Duncan went to France in his capacity as chairman of the Farm Machinery subcommittee of the Combined Production Resources Board of Canada and the United States. In all the districts which he visited and as a result of the best information he could get about other districts, he believes agriculture to be in a fairly prosperous condition. It had been thought that difficulties in the way of getting artificial fertilizers, or which France has always been a great consumer, would bring down output but does not seem to have done so.

Prosperous France Farmers

"The French farmers have had very good crops during the war and have sold most of their surplus in France.
They continued to supply Paris until D-Day and they were paid in French money. Prices throughout the war were for them on a steadily increasing scale and that applied as well to the things they had to buy. A great black market operated because rationed supplies of staple articles were not sufficient and prices in that market were higher still. As everybody was forced to deal to some degree in that market, the farmers did better than they had done before, that is, as measured by francs."

Asked whether there were many shortages of staple goods, Mr. Duncan said:
"With the aid of the black market there was enough to eat. The production of clothing was substantially reduced. Correspondents have referred to the general shabbiness of the French people. Overcoats and other clothing, for instance, had been turned. Shoes were so short that wooden soles were used instead of leather. This was particularly noticeable to me because I was born in Paris and grew up there. In the workmen's districts I did not notice much difference but in all the better districts where I had been accustomed to see well dressed people the difference was very noticeable."

Transport Problem Great

"The great problem of France now is one of transportation. The railways have been paralyzed by destruction of 4,000 bridges. The ports were in many cases put completely out of business, especially where the Germans established pockets of resistance. There were 360,000 railway trucks in 1939, now 31,000; and in 1939 there were 6,000 locomotives, now 1,200 or much less because a lot of these were taken back into Germany where transportation problems are also acute."

In their retreat the Germans requisitioned everything on wheels: horse-drawn carts, motor cars, trucks, anything they could get. With all this destruction of railroads, canals, telegraph and telephone lines added to by sabotage from the underground, it is scarcely to be wondered at that the events of recent months have produced an abundance of food and other products in rural districts and shortages of food in populous centres. I found the same conditions in North Africa where high prices and a black market were directly traceable to difficulties in transportation.

"Imagine how Canada would be if there were no outgoing mail and very little internal mail being moved, in France efforts are now in hand to remedy that and in a few weeks there may be a great difference."

In my opinion France is going to have a six months period of great difficulty.

France Coming Back

"But six months from now, I am confident, there will be a great difference. Correct that fundamental dis-organization and France will get to work again in a large way. I think France is going to be much stronger and more influential in the future than commentators guessed some few months ago."

As to how far the Government will go on entering business in France, he said:

"I found the de Gaulle Government strong in popular favor. It is not a Communist Government, as some people on this side seem to think I would say that it has definite socialistic tendencies. I think it goes as far as to intend State ownership of certain public enterprises and mines, but I do not think it intends to go down as far as business or industry."

France is a country of small farm holdings and of numerous highly developed but small industries. I do not think any Government would attempt to get in between the people and these assets which they own and value."

No one can demand that someone else be trustworthy. But everybody can become the sort of person other people trust.

It's easy to give out an answer.
But you've got to live it out before it gets across.

HERE'S MY FEED PROBLEM...

What should I look for when buying a hog starter supplement to mix with my farm grains?

HERE'S THE ANSWER...

Look for "Miracle" Sow and Starter Supplement. The name "Miracle" assures you that every ingredient in the bag has been scientifically tested for food value.

Mix "Miracle" Sow and Starter Supplement with your farm grains for the best results.

Tuesday, December 6th. Sixteen members were present. The main discussion was of electrical power. The franchise granted to Mr. Sawyer has expired and he has intimated that he would not feel justified in signing a re-newal under present circumstances. He explained that his present equipment is not able to carry the present load required to say nothing of the extra demands for power. With the present support of the public he expressed himself willing to investigate the possibilities of installing a larger A.C. plant which would take care of postwar needs and enable the public to take advantage of the newer types of electric equipment which will undoubtedly be available. The opinion of the residents has been expressed 100% in favour of this move so we must wait patiently for results.

The merchants of Edgerton are again putting on the usual Free Picture Show and this will be on the afternoon and evening of Friday, December 16th.

There was a fire alarm turned in Sunday morning, but fortunately the equipment was not needed. A fire had started through the ashes being put too near a building and setting it on fire. Let this be a warning to us all. The fire engine and equipment was quickly on the spot.
